Edwards Engineering has provided a full range of civil engineering service to the City of Jacksonville for over ten years. Projects include roadway design, drainage analysis and design, utility design, traffic study and design, cost estimating, bidding and contracting assistance, and CEI. Edwards constantly provides these services in a time-efficient and cost effective manner.

We at the City stress that our consultants serve as problem solvers and that they exhibit a mentality that is big on action versus study. Edwards has shown a knack for providing us with that type of attitude and level of service. Edwards consistently meets time and budget constraints.
